

Affordable advice from a family solicitor via Advicenow in partnership with Resolution

Please be aware that in order for the appointments to work and for the client to get all the advice described for the price described, the client has to have read the relevant guide up to the section where they see the option of getting advice on that area. We have called these ‘jumping off points’ as they are points when the client can ‘jump off’ from Advicenow’s award-winning self-help information to access specialist advice on how the law applies to their specific case. Each of the guides in this project are available below.

This service for Litigants in Person works in an entirely new way – see Law for Life’s site for more details. If you have any queries please contact Mary.Marvel@lawforlife.org.uk.

How to apply for a court order about the arrangements for your children without the help of a lawyer

The standard guide is available for free as webpages. The extended version can be purchased for £16 (£5 reduction to those in receipt of state benefits) and is available for free to those on a very low income on request.
